

Obertauern

Obertauern, a veritable skier's paradise nestled into the picturesque surroundings of the Radstaedter Tauern mountain range, ranks among Europe's most popular winter sports regions, attracting guests from all over the world with its unique brand of alpine serenity. Situated at 1,639 – 2,350 m above sea level, Obertauern is snow-sure and famous for the quality of its powdery white. This highly atmospheric mountain resort registers around 900,000 overnight stays per year.

Around 100 kilometres of slopes are served by 26 ropeways and lift facilities capable of transporting 46,000 persons an hour, with seasons running from late November until early May. Whether it's artificial snow production, transport facilities or ticketing and access, Obertauern makes a point of offering its guests only the latest and greatest in terms of convenience and security.
